KESHAV MAHAVIDYALAYA

Name of Event : Introduction to Research Methodology
Date of Event : 16/01/2024
Venue : Seminar Hall, Ground Floor
Type of Activity : Collaborative activity between Keshav College & Kamla Teacher Training

To introduce students and faculty members to the fundamentals of research methodology, enabling them to design and conduct effective research studies. A research methodology describes the techniques and procedures used to identify and analyse information regarding a specific research topic. It is a process by which researchers design their study so that they can achieve their objectives using the selected research instruments. It includes all the important aspects of research, including research design, data collection methods, data analysis methods, and the overall framework within which the research is conducted. While these points can help you understand what is research methodology, you also need to know why it is important to pick the right methodology.

Why is research methodology important?

Helps other researchers who may want to replicate your research; the explanations will be of benefit to them and provides a framework and guidelines for researchers to clearly define research questions, hypotheses, and objectives. It helps researchers identify the most appropriate research design, sampling technique, and data collection and analysis methods.

KESHAV MAHAVIDYALAYA

Name of Event : Interactive session on Entrepreneurship
Date of Event : 08/01/2024
Venue : Seminar Hall, Ground Floor

The event aimed to foster entrepreneurial spirit and provide practical insights into starting and running a successful business. It featured interactive discussions, hands-on activities, and expert advice from experienced entrepreneurs.

Entrepreneurship is the process of starting, managing, and growing a business, usually with the goal of making a profit. It involves using innovation, skills, and vision to create new products, services, or ideas that meet market demand and create value for a target audience. Entrepreneurship can also apply to other types of self-employment, such as online content creators and consultants.

Entrepreneurs need to understand how businesses work, including from a financial and operational perspective, while also having a drive for innovation. They need to be able to identify opportunities in the marketplace that other providers aren't meeting, and have the business sense to know how to pursue those opportunities at the right time. Entrepreneurs often take on financial risks, so they also need to be resilient and have problem-solving skills.

KESHAV MAHAVIDYALAYA

Name of Event : Guest Lecture on Overview on Intellectual Property Rights
Date of Event : 18-01-2024
Venue : Seminar Hall, Ground Floor

This workshop to provides a comprehensive overview of Intellectual Property Rights, enabling students to understand the importance and nuances of IPR. Intellectual property (IP) pertains to any original creation of the human intellect such as artistic, literary, technical, or scientific creation. Intellectual property rights (IPR) refers to the legal rights given to the inventor or creator to protect his invention or creation for a certain period of time. These legal rights confer an exclusive right to the inventor/creator or his assignee to fully utilize his invention/creation for a given period of time. It is very well settled that IP play a vital role in the modern economy. It has also been conclusively established that the intellectual labour associated with the innovation should be given due importance so that public good emanates from it. There has been a quantum jump in research and development (R&D) costs with an associated jump in investments required for putting a new technology in the market place.

KESHAV MAHAVIDYALAYA

Name of Event : Workshop on RM: Learning Tools in Research

Date of Event : 17 March, 2024

Venue : Seminar Hall, Ground Floor

This event helps to knowledge on workshops as a research methodology, and specifically on how such workshops pertain to e-learning. A literature review illustrated that workshops are discussed according to three different perspectives: workshops as a means, workshops as practice, and workshops as a research methodology. Focusing primarily on the latter, this paper presents five studies on upper secondary and higher education teachers' professional development and on teaching and learning through video conferencing. Through analysis and discussion of these studies' findings, we argue that workshops provide a platform that can aid researchers in identifying and exploring relevant factors in a given domain by providing means for understanding complex work and knowledge processes that are supported by technology (for example, e-learning). The approach supports identifying factors that are not obvious to either the participants or the researchers prior to commencing the workshop process. This paper also discusses the facilitator's different clinical and ethnographic roles and highlights the risks and ethical issues involved during both the workshop process and the workshop data analysis. As such, these collaborative and immersive aspects frame workshops as a research approach that has the potential to advance meaning negotiation between researchers and participants.
