What is a Trademark?

A trademark is a word, symbol, phrase, sign, design, graphic, or logo that protects the identity of a particular brand, product, or service from being infringed or copied. A trademark differentiates a brand's products from that of its competitors. Consumers generally identify a brand's products and services by its logo, unique features, and quality. The trademark registration process refers to the act of registering the trademark name, logo, or symbol with Intellectual Property India's official registrar of trademarks. In India, trademark registration is managed by the Trademarks Registration Act 1999.

The Trademarks and Branding event was designed to provide participants with a comprehensive understanding of trademarks and their role in building and protecting a brand. The session focused on the importance of trademarks in creating a distinct brand identity, the process of registering and managing trademarks, and strategies for leveraging branding to enhance business success.
